pressure process for low-acid foods are the only recommended methods to heat process foods for shelf storage.

Times for heat processing preserved foods correctly vary depending on each specific recipe or food type. Processing times must be in agreement with those listed in the approved reference guides.

3. PRODUCT APPEARANCE

Produce should be free from blemishes, stems, pits and peels. Some recipes may state stems, pits and peels are not removed, this is acceptable if the recipe is in keeping with all other preserving guidelines.

Liquid must be clear and free from cloudiness and small particles unless there are ingredients added to the recipe that would naturally affect its clarity.

Color of the finished product should be as close to its natural characteristics as possible or standard for cooked product.

Texture is affected by heat processing; however, the finished product should not appear over-cooked or broke down.

Ingredients should retain their shape and size based on the type and preparation method. Cut pieces, of uniform size, should be packed evenly in the jar yet allow adequate room for liquid to circulate throughout the jar.

Safety is of utmost importance. Any entry exhibiting spoilage or not in compliance with judging guidelines must be disqualified.

Entries must be labeled with product name, date of preparation, processing method and processing time. Please put rings on the jars for safety.

All preserved foods must have been prepared within a one-year (1) period prior to the judging date. Late seasonal vegetables and fruits, such as tomatoes and peaches, can be last year's.

* Judges Do Not Taste Preserved Foods as Part of the Ball Fresh Preserving Award Judging ****

Judging Criteria

1. FILLED JAR

Headspace must correspond to instructions on the jar and lid packaging or the reference guides listed. The top of the finished recipe or liquid covering produce should provide adequate headspace as stated in approved guidelines.

Air Bubbles must be kept to a minimum. Gas bubbles denote spoilage; they are identified by movement of bubbles to the surface of the product while the jar is stationary.

Bands should remain in place to transport preserved food. Remove bands carefully to determine if the headspace is correct. Replace bands for product display.

2. HEAT PROCESS

Methods used to heat process foods must comply with current preserving guidelines as stated in the approved reference guides. The boiling-water process for acid foods and steam-

Each recipe must be printed or typed on a recipe card no larger than a half sheet of paper (covered or placed in a Ziploc bag) attached to that product. If the card is not present, the entry will not be judged for food safety and allergy avoidance reasons. Do not put the exhibitor's name on the recipe card.

Safety: Contestants should carefully wash their hands and make sure that their hands do not have any open cuts before preparing foods. Whenever possible, baked products should be transported and stored in chilled coolers (40° F).

Display: Food items can be on or in disposable or non-disposable containers. Fair volunteers WILL NOT be responsible for non-disposable containers. Do not use meat styrofoam trays from grocery stores. A sample of cake, coffee cake, or pie will remain on display with the ribbon. If you want to take home the remaining food items, they MUST be picked up after judging at approximately 9:00 pm. Or after. Remaining food will be considered for the Bake Sale held the next day at 4:30 pm.
