Purpose of this Guide

This guide is intended to help families new to Boone County 4-H become familiar with our program. It should serve as a valuable resource for members and parents to better understand the terms, nomenclature, structure, and operations of the 4-H program. While some families new to Boone County 4-H may have transferred from another county, it is important to understand that each county in Indiana may have different procedures. Please do not hesitate to contact the Extension Office at any time throughout the year. The Extension Office staff is here to serve your educational needs and wants your family to be successful in our local youth development program.

WHAT IS 4-H?

4-H is an extracurricular, volunteer led, family-oriented program. 4-H includes activities for youth in grades 3 through 12. With Mini 4-H being for youth in grades K, 1 and 2.

Mission

The Indiana 4-H Youth Development mission is to provide real-life educational opportunities that develop young people who will have a positive impact in their communities and the world. 4-H has three main mission areas: Science, Technology, Engineering, Math (STEM); Healthy Living; and Civic Engagement.

Motto

“To make the best better.”

Emblem

The 4-H emblem is the four-leaf clover with the letter “H” on each leaf. The Hs stand for Head, Heart, Hands, and Health.

Colors

The 4-H colors are green and white. Green symbolizes nature’s most common color and represents life, springtime, and youth. White symbolizes purity.

4-H Pledge

I pledge

My head to clearer thinking
My heart to greater loyalty
My hands to larger service, and
My health to better living
For my club, my community,
my country, and my world.

Membership

More than 6 million youth are 4-H members throughout the United States. In Indiana, there are more than 250,000 youth who are 4-H members. Boone County has an enrollment of around 1,000 youth each year.

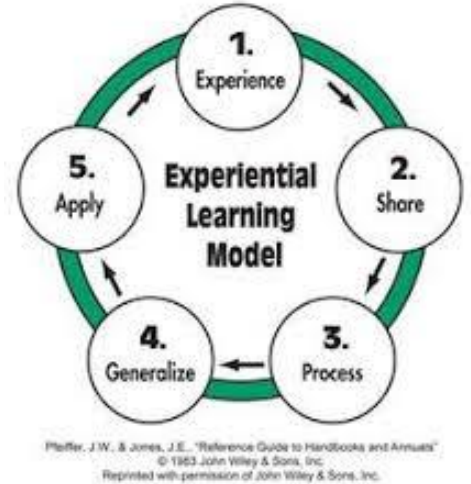

What Makes 4-H Different?

4-H is unique because it is the only youth organization tied to the research base of our nation’s land-grant university system. This connection allows Purdue Extension Staff and the volunteers they work with to receive training based on the most up-to-date research on youth development theory and practice.¹

In Indiana, 4-H can be found in all 92 counties as delivered through Purdue Extension. Purdue Extension is the outreach link between local communities, the land grant universities, and the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA). Since 1914, this educational system has assisted in the well-being and productivity of people throughout the United States.

HOW DOES LEARNING HAPPEN IN 4-H?

Since young people learn best when they are actively involved in the learning process, 4-H programs are designed to provide hands-on educational experiences that are reinforced through personal and group reflection and application – “do-reflect-apply.” This research based educational methodology is called “Experiential Learning.”

Weather Cancellations

Often times in the winter and spring the weather creates a travel safety hazard or does not permit an outdoor activity to occur as scheduled. Weather related cancellations will be sent via email to 4-H families and updated on our Extension calendar. Winter weather related cancellations may be found on local television if submitted. If you suspect there is a weather-related cancellation the best way to confirm is to contact the adult leader in charge of the activity. Under no circumstance should a child or family put themselves in harm’s way just to attend a 4-H meeting/event.

What is 4-H and the Cooperative Extension Service?

4-H is a non-formal educational program provided by the United States Department of Agriculture and is delivered through its Cooperative Extension Service, (CES). The Cooperative Extension Service is administered in Indiana through its land grant university, Purdue University. CES offers educational programs in the areas of Agriculture and Natural Resources, Consumer and Family Sciences, Leadership and Community Development, and 4-H and Youth Development. In Boone County, Extension Educators receive program direction and support from the Extension Board that is comprised of a cross-section of people throughout the county.

4-H provides youth in grades 3-12 educational programs through their participation in project and club related activities. Boone County 4-H offers programming through 62 different projects and has 13 different 4-H clubs. 4-H project workshops provide members with technical training that each member needs to be successful not only in that discipline, but also with lifelong technical skills. 4-H club work provides members with lifelong leadership and social skills that will be of benefit to every member in career preparation.

Livestock enrollment deadline is due May 15th each year, unless that falls on a Saturday or a Sunday, then the deadline is the next business day.

4-H RESOURCES

4-H Handbook

This year's 4-H handbook can be found on the Purdue Extension Website, <http://extension.purdue.edu/boone>. The handbook contains all policies, both state and county, relating to the 4-H program. It is important that every 4-H member and parent/guardian read this book. Not only does it have the general requirements for all 4-H exhibits, but it also has the exhibit requirements for each individual project. Judges at the 4-H Fair are provided with these exhibit requirements and critique exhibits based upon these requirements.

4-H Volunteers

4-H leaders, both club and project, can be your greatest resource. Their telephone numbers are listed in your 4-H handbook. It is suggested that in the event that 4-H members are unable to attend a project workshop or 4-H club meeting, they contact their leader to find out what they missed. 4-H leaders should be contacted with questions regarding clarification of exhibit requirements and 4-H activities.

Club Meetings

There are 13 4-H clubs in Boone County, each supervised by adult volunteers. Families can choose which 4-H club they want to belong based upon the activities, requirements, meeting times, and location that best suits their needs. Club membership can cross township, county, or state lines, but being geographically close to meetings makes participation easier. Club leaders supervise the officers who plan and conduct activities at their meeting that are designed to teach leadership, citizenship, and life skills among the members. Clubs also complete at least one community improvement project throughout the year to teach teamwork and the importance of philanthropy. Parents are invited and encouraged to attend club meetings with their child. Clubs are non-gender based.

4-Hers may change membership to another club if they wish. It is important to change your club information on 4-HOnline and notify the leaders of both clubs (the one you are leaving and the one you are joining).

Project Workshops

Each project is led by at least one adult volunteer project leader. Project leaders will offer workshops throughout the year that are designed to teach members technical skills related to that project. Educational activities are designed using the experiential learning model so that as members learn skills in their project, they can take that same information or process and apply it to other areas to further teach life skills through 4-H. Parents are invited and encouraged to attend project workshops with their child.

Attendance at Project Workshops and Club Meetings

While attendance at club meetings and project workshops are not required, we always say that you get out of 4-H what you put in. These opportunities allow youth to develop stronger life skills and keep them up to date on important 4-H information. If for some reason a member is not able to attend a 4-H meeting or workshop, it is important for them to contact their club leader or project leader to find out what they will miss.

Manuals

Every member also receives a manual for almost all projects he/she is enrolled in. Some projects do not have manuals. Manuals are distributed to members by their club leader and serve as a resource for technical information relating to that particular project. Please note that many of the project manuals have activities to enhance the learning process. Many of the projects encourage completion of three activities in this project manual and can be turned in at project check-in time. Requirements with regards to manual activities can be found in the 4-H Handbook.

Record Sheets

A record sheet is designed for each project. Record sheets are a way for members to describe in writing what they learned about that project throughout the year. It also teaches members record keeping skills. In order to complete a project, it is recommended for the member to submit a completed record sheet to their project leader. If for some reason a child is not able to finish their 4-H exhibit to display at the county fair, they can still complete the project by turning in a completed record sheet. Record sheets can be found online at <http://extension.purdue.edu/boone> If you do not have access to the internet, please contact the Extension Office for copies.

FAIR TIME

Exhibit Requirements

Every 4-H project must meet the general exhibit requirements, and also its own project exhibit requirements. Again, these requirements can be found in your 4-H Handbook. Some projects encourage that 3 activities be completed in the project manual and turned in with the member's exhibit. In addition, a project record sheet is encouraged to accompany your 4-H exhibit.

It is critical that 4-H members and their parents/guardians read and follow the exhibit requirements outlined in the 4-H Handbook. Exhibits are judged at the county fair by a judge who grades them based on the requirements outlined in the online 4-H Handbook.

Fair Judging

All projects exhibited at the fair will be judged on its own merits by a judge familiar with 4-H. It is important to read the fair book to find out when exhibits are to be checked-in, judged, and released.

Livestock exhibits are evaluated by the judge and ranked by the judge from most desirable to least desirable, based on the animal's characteristics and ribbons are awarded 1st place through 10th place. Most of the livestock shows will include a class for showmanship and the judge evaluates how well the child is working with his/her animal as well as the showing and grooming techniques being used to exhibit that animal. 4-H members will be presented a separate ribbon for showmanship.

Non-livestock exhibits uses the Danish system of ribbon awards. In this system, the ribbon placings are defined as follows:

Grand Champion.....	Best Overall Award for a particular project.
Reserve Grand Champion.....	Second Best Overall Award for a particular project.
Division Champion.....	Best Overall Award for a particular division of a project.
Division Reserve Champion.....	Second Best Overall Award for a particular division of a project.
Blue Honor.....	Project is eligible to compete for Division Champion.
Blue.....	Exceeds project requirements.
Red.....	Meets average project requirements.
White.....	Below average of the project requirements
Green.....	Participation

All projects are judged in an open format. Open judging allows the judge to talk with the 4-H member about his/her exhibit and how it was prepared for the fair. This allows for an educational atmosphere for both the members and parents.

Project Completion Requirements

As you know, when signing up for 4-H the intent is to complete every project you signed up for by creating, constructing and designing a project for the county fair. However, we know that sometimes life happens and it may not be possible and that's okay! In order to complete a 4-H year the requirements are; enrollment in the project, completion of a project for county fair or completing a project record sheet. Reminder: If you complete a project for fair the manual and project record sheet are not required to be submitted but it does increase your 4-H experience by growing your knowledge.

4-H ACTIVITIES AND AWARDS

Achievement Program

Each year members are presented with a variety of prestigious awards at the Achievement Program. Local and state awards are presented to members based on their overall accomplishments. This event occurs during the 4-H Fair, usually on the last day of the fair.

4-H Camp

Boone County 4-H participants in a 3-day, 2-night camp with three other counties at Shakamak State Park. There is a fee for camp. Extension Educators, trained adult staff and 4-H camp counselors (4-H members grade 9-12) oversee the camp. Youth, grades 3-6, enjoy three days of hands-on activities, swimming, nature and making new friends. Information on camp will be emailed to eligible members in February/March.

Trips

Boone County 4-H, Indiana 4-H, and the National 4-H offer members a variety of awards, trips, and incentives. A summary of these is on the Purdue Extension-Boone County Website. In addition, businesses and individuals who have contributed to the 4-H Booster Club sponsor these locally. Therefore, it is necessary for members wishing to be selected for these trips and awards to complete an application and submit it to the awards committee. These applications are found on our website: <http://extension.purdue.edu/boone>.

SPARK Clubs

Join a SPARK club to be a part of a short-term programs designed to “spark” interest of youth in a specific topic area. These vary in topics and have a minimum of six hours of education throughout a time period. The program ends with a culminating project where youth showcase what they learned. Exhibiting at the Fair is not required.

Officers’ Training

This is held for current officers of 4-H Clubs to give them ideas and helpful hints about their jobs and responsibilities. This event is held every other year.

4-H Scholarships

Youth starting in 10th grade can start to apply for Indiana 4-H Scholarships. Boone County also offers a scholarship program for High School Seniors and those post High School who are continuing their education. Applications can be found on the Purdue Extension –Boone County webpage. Most scholarships are due January 25th.

RECORD KEEPING IN 4-H

4-H Project Manuals and Record Sheets

4-H members are expected to keep all manuals and record sheets for the entirety of their 4-H career. While the Extension Office does record all grades and ribbon placings, mistakes do happen. If there is ever a discrepancy between your records and ours, all you have to do is provide the Extension Educator with the original paperwork with the grade on it and the issue can usually be resolved. All manuals and record sheets that are turned in, are returned to Club Leaders at the Project Fair and 4-H members are expected to pick them up from Club Leaders in a timely manner.

4-H Achievement Book Project

This is a project special to Boone County. It helps 4-H members keep their 4-H records in an orderly fashion while also giving them an opportunity to reflect on what life skills they gained the past year in 4-H as well as create a memory book of sorts. Those youth in grades 9-12 also get a jump-start on 4-H scholarships by completing this project.

My Record of 4-H Achievement

This card provides a means for members to keep track of the projects they were enrolled in, exhibit placings, county 4-H activities, and 4-H club activities. It is important that this card be updated each year because when the 4-H member becomes older he or she will be eligible to apply for scholarships, trips, and awards not only in the county, but also those offered on a state and national basis. By keeping this record of achievement card updated it simplifies the completion of these applications later in their 4-H career. A copy of “My Record of 4-H

Achievement can be found within your packet. If a new form is needed this can also be found on our website for download. Additionally, 4-H members are encouraged to compile an achievement record book with pictures that highlights what they have learned by their participation in 4-H projects and club activities.

Permanent Record Card

The Extension office maintains a Permanent Record Card for every 4-H member in Boone County. This record card contains a listing of every 4-H project that a member has been enrolled in, their exhibit placing as well as the trips and awards they have received and participated in. The county Awards Committee and Scholarship Committee utilizes this information when selecting 4-H members for awards and scholarships.

Getting Involved as a 4-H Parent

Booster Club

The Booster Club has been established to provide financial support for the 4-H program in Boone County. This annual fund drive collects money to help offset educational trip expenses for 4-H members to attend statewide science workshops and leadership conferences. Additionally, sponsorship of trophies and banners awarded at the county fair come from the booster club.

4-H Parents Can Help By...

1. Learn about 4-H: what it stands for, how it operates, how it is funded.
2. Advise your child in selecting 4-H projects.
3. Show your interest and enthusiasm for the projects selected. Find out what is suggested for the members to do and learn.

7. Keep informed about 4-H through information that comes to members of your family. Be a 4-H booster in your community.
8. Make 4-H Club work FAMILY work, but, let the boys and girls do their work and carry their own jobs to completion. Be their guide only.
9. Provide transportation to local meetings and county events in which your child and others of the club are interested. Or, provide refreshments for meetings or special functions.
10. Attend 4-H meetings and other special events.
11. Help your 4-Her find a way to participate in special events that interest him/her such as county contests, camps, Fairs, displays, or shows.

15. Remember that the real object of 4-H is to develop your sons and daughters into finer citizens. The way they work on projects, participate in meetings, and conduct themselves at competitive events, etc., will help set work and character standards for the rest of their lives.

Part of this fee is a state-wide fee ($15) that provides insurance for youth for 4-H events as well as provides money to the Indiana 4-H program.
