

Hannah Lewis

Hannah is a 10 year member of the Rough Riders 4-H club. She is the daughter of Jessica & Shane Pugh and David & Lindsay Lewis.

The major projects that she has taken in 4-H include horse & pony, rabbits, swine, sheep and goats.

Hannah's future schooling/job plans include learning all about equine barn management and equine reproduction.

The greatest contribution 4-H has made in Hannah's life was "learning the value of hard work and great friendships."

Hannah describes the most important thing she learned from her participation in the 4-H program "I have learned outside of our small community and what we see everyday that agriculture not only has a large effect on just us as a community, but it has an overall effect on the economy and the production of most things; making it very important to keep the 4-H program alive."
