

Liam Collins

Liam is a 6 year member of the Finley Fantastics 4-H club. He is the son of Sabrina Collins & Jason Collins.

The major projects that he has taken in 4-H include model cars, digital art, market hogs & market lambs.

Liam's future schooling/job plans include attending the University of Alaska Anchorage to pursue a degree in fine arts.

The greatest contribution 4-H has made in Liam's life is being able to spend time with my family. "As a military child, I've been overseas for most of my life. The only time I would get to see family was when they came to visit us. Through 4-H, I am able to spend a good portion of my summer with the family I rarely see and experience their ways of life."

Liam describes the most important thing he learned from his participation in the 4-H program "How to be resilient when things don't go my way. I can think of countless times where I would get frustrated over the simplest things, like if my wether or pig refused to walk. However, the people who I'm surrounded with in the 4-H program have taught me how to handle these situations. I have learned that getting frustrated is a part of learning, and being able to be resilient and take my time with my animals has significantly improved their performance and my attitude."
