

Soybean Science:

This program shows that science and engineering can be fun AND educational. This program increases awareness about using renewable natural resources, such as soybeans, for making industrial products. A hands on activity includes making lip balm from soybean oil.

Contact Megan Stone at mmcneel1@purdue.edu to schedule this program.

