1. The two types of injections given to cattle include the _____ injection and _____ injection.

2. Cattle have a four compartment stomach. The four parts are _____, _____, _____ and _____.

3. A livestock feed label should contain eight different items. Fill in the missing items.

- |    |                                    |    |  |
|----|------------------------------------|----|--|
| A. | Product Name and Brand Name | E. | _____  |
| B. | _____                              | F. | _____  |
| C. | _____                              | G. | Feeding Instruction &amp; Precautionary Statement |

4. Learning how to give an injection is an important skill. Needles are similar to wire in that they are sized by gauge. The smaller the number (12 or 14 gauge), the larger the needle. The larger the number (20 or 22 gauge), the smaller the needle.

What size needle would you use for a normal injection? Circle the best answer.

- A. Plastic syringe, 12 gauge needle, 1 ¼ inches long
- B. Plastic syringe, 16 – 18 gauge needle, 1 ¼ inches long
- C. Plastic syringe, 22 gauge needle, 1 ¼ inches long

5. Look up web resources for the following:
