

Dairy Breed ID

Brown Swiss

- Originated in Switzerland
- Because of foot and mouth disease, only 3 have been imported since 1906
- Good temperament and strong feet and legs
- Color: gray or light brown to dark brown

Guernsey

- Originated from the Isle of Guernsey
- Known for high quality (high fat and protein content) milk while consuming less feed
- Intermediate frame
- Known for milk to have a golden color

Holstien

- Originated in Europe
- Large frame
- Color: black and white
- Known for outstanding milk production

Jersey

- Originated from the Isle of Jersey (small British isle)
- Color: very light gray to dark brown or almost black
- Known for high milk fat
- Wide-range of body weight; typically smaller framed

Milking Shorthorn

- Originated in England
- Color: red, white, red and white, roan
- Most versatile of all breeds: good producers, good temperament, good calves, good frame
- Dual breed- a breed in both dairy and beef

