Join us for a

FARMER APPRECIATION BREAKFAST

Friday, December 11th, 2026

Knights of Columbus Hall

401 Felt King Road, Vincennes, IN 47591

8:00 AM

The team at German American invites you to join us for a good old-fashioned country breakfast. Following, guest speaker Dr. Michael Langemeier of Purdue University will join us and provide an Economic Outlook for agriculture.

Please RSVP by December 5th to:
Gaven Oexmann at 882-6272 or Greg Cardinal at 882-6273, German American, or Valerie Clingerman, Purdue Extension, at 882-3509.

Sponsored by:

German American Bank
Banking • Wealth Management

In cooperation with:

PURDUE UNIVERSITY | Extension

Guest Speaker: Dr. Michael Langemeier, Ag Economics Professior, Purdue University

Michael Langemeier is the Director of the Center for Commercial Agriculture in the Department of Agricultural Economics at Purdue University. In addition to being one of the principal investigators for the Purdue University-CME Group Ag Economy Barometer, a nationwide monthly sentiment survey of U.S. farmers, Michael's program areas include agricultural finance, cost of production, and transition planning.

Email: mlangeme@purdue.edu

Pesticide Applicator and Certified Crop Adviser Meeting

Following the breakfast and economic outlook, Purdue Extension will be conducting a meeting offering Private and Commercial Applicator credits as well as credits for Certified Crop Advisers. The meeting will take place from 10:00 AM - 12:00 PM. PARP fees are sponsored by the Indiana Soybean Alliance and Indiana Corn Marketing Council. Please remember to bring your applicators license. If you have any questions, contact the Purdue Extension - Knox County Office at (812)882-3509.

Member FDIC