BRUSSELS SPROUTS

Selection Info
Look for bright green, firm sprouts, and avoid sprouts with loose leaves. Brussels sprouts flavor should improve in cool weather and after a frost.

Preparation
Rinse under cold running water to remove any dust or dirt. Use a small knife to remove the sprout tip, and then remove any leaves that have bad spots.

- Raw: Slice thinly and toss with other shredded vegetables like cabbage, carrots, or beets. Add your favorite salad dressing.
- Roast: Toss sprouts in olive oil, lay flat on a baking sheet, and roast in a 400°F oven for 40 minutes.
- Stove Top: Boil a pot of water with a pinch of salt. Wash sprouts under cold running water and remove any leaves or yellow spots you may see. Place sprouts in a pot and cook for about 10-15 minutes. Sprouts are done when a knife will easily cut through them. Season with butter, salt, and pepper to taste.
- Sauté: Wash sprouts under cold running water and remove any yellow spots and then cut them in half. Put 1-2 tablespoons of olive oil in a skillet. Place the sprouts flat side down in the skillet. Add salt and pepper to taste. Cook on each side for about 5 minutes or until golden brown.

Storage

- Short-Term Storage: Fresh Brussels sprouts sold in two forms: attached to the stem and off of the stem. Store in a plastic bag in the refrigerator.
- Long-Term Storage: Store in a cool 32-40°F cellar with high humidity. Do not store Brussels sprouts in the refrigerator long-term due to the low humidity. However, you can freeze them.
